Credit Education Month Celebration

You're invited to a FREE Webinar

Think Spring Refresh...for your credit!

March is known for many things: the beginning of daylight saving time, the onset of spring weather, and the blooming of flowers. But did you know that March is also National Credit Education Month? Make an effort this month to understand key concepts when it comes to your credit. By doing so, you can best serve your current financial situation and help you keep your New Year's resolution of being financially fit in 2023.

Join FICO and its partners celebrating Credit Education Month. Special guest host Bola Sokunbi, the CEO, best-selling author, and founder of Clever Girl Finance will be joining Tom Quinn, VP of Scores at FICO and Yolanda Butler from Operation HOPE to share tips on how to Score A Better Future and respond to your questions.

Whether you are new to credit, preparing to purchase a home, planning your retirement, or concerned about protecting your financial health, knowledge is power and this session will provide helpful information on your credit journey.
